

BOTH CLAIM HIM

Curtis-Bristow Row Is Drawing In Governor Capper.

He Is Logical Victim of Breach Over Delegation.

IGNORES STAND PAT WING

Capper's Appointments Mostly From Among Moose.

Progressives Are Happy, but Regulars Are Anxious.

Unless a new Curtis-Bristow row is healed, Governor Capper can soon forget his troubles with Democratic job holders to worry about an uprising within his own party. In an early row brewing over a Republican presidential delegation from Kansas, Governor Capper is the logical victim in a possible breach. Both sides claim Capper's support in the ultimate show down and the wily governor has been shrewd enough to dodge an alignment in the early controversy.

Recently Charles Curtis, United States senator, told Kansas that they should send an uninstructed delegation to the national convention. Quite promptly Joseph L. Bristow, chairman of the public utilities commission and former senator, told Kansas that Curtis was mistaken. The forming of a low pressure and a high pressure area in the Kansas political zone meant but one thing to the political weather forecasters. They knew that the situation meant a change in conditions and doubtless considerable precipitation. It all came, too, just at a time when Kansas Republicans were praying for clear skies and warm weather.

Governor Must Suffer.

The most likely man in Kansas to suffer is the governor. He will be called upon in due time to stand with the Curtis forces or follow the Bristow flag. To go with the Curtis crowd means to alienate the favor he has carried with the progressive wing of the party. To line up with Bristow, is an open invitation for a repetition of the row that split the party in Kansas during the 1912 conflict. Of course the final settlement of the difficulty is some time in the distance. But the issue is just as clear as though it were to be met tomorrow.

Since Capper became governor, he has practically ignored the conservative wing of the party. His appointments of Bristow, Mercer, Tod and Howe can hardly be termed recognition of the old line Republicans. Even the reappointment of Hoch and Kinkaid, original Hughes appointees, failed to bring joy to the leaders of the old crowd.

Capper Becomes Popular.

Distribution of patronage by the governor has won him friends among the progressive members of the party. Even William Allen White, Progressive national committeeman, declared as late as Monday of this week that Capper would receive more progressive than conservative votes if running on an independent ticket. That statement didn't tend to promote Capper's popularity with the conservatives, but it did tend to bring a first class protective tariff and the cardinal principles of the party.

On the other hand, the conservatives have said but little. In the main they supported Capper in the last election. They wanted Curtis elected and the swallowing of Capper was less painful and distasteful than the defeat of Curtis at the hands of a Democrat. But with Capper in the governor's chair, it has been quite apparent that the members of the old guard have not been high in the inner councils of the administration. They accepted the Capper appointments of men who supported Roosevelt in 1912 and muttered only among themselves.

Demand Recognition.

But now the conservatives are planning to go to Capper and demand recognition. They want and will demand his support of the Curtis plan for an uninstructed Kansas delegation in the next national convention. They will urge that Kansas individually have little choice in the selection of a national committee. They will urge, also, that a conservative Republican make the presidential nominee to make the 1916 issue clear and clean cut.

In this the conservatives will demand Capper's support—not weak kneed, apologetic or vacillating assistance—but positive and open help. They are willing that Capper distribute patronage to the best advantage. But in the national fight, Capper will be forced to stand with the conservatives or face another breach.

TO TALK OVER WAR.

American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Philadelphia, April 30.—Speakers from all sections of the United States gathered here today to attend the nineteenth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science. The sessions which will continue through tomorrow, will partake of the nature of a national conference to consider the important problems now confronting the United States, which have arisen because of the European conflict. Delegates appointed by the governors of many states in the Union, and representatives of national, civic and trade organizations will also be present. The meeting has all the earmarks of being the most important national meeting that has been held since the outbreak of the European war.

The meeting will consist of six sessions. The topics which will be discussed at today's sessions will be: "American Industry and Labor as Affected by the European War," "International Trade of the United States as Affected by the European War," and "American Neutrality and the European War." Among the persons of national reputations who will participate in the discussions are:

Many Difficulties in the Way of Relief.

Appeal to United States for Food by Parcel Post.

(Carl W. Ackerman.)

Berlin, April 30.—Many thousands of persons in several districts of Poland face starvation today. The government survey shows that in many places a food supply of from two to three weeks only is available. The question of relief is now being considered, but because of the difficulty of purchasing food, outside of Germany, this is a difficult task.

ATTACK WALL STREET

New York Suffragists Plan a Demonstration This Afternoon.

New York, April 30.—Five hundred women are to take part in a demonstration in Wall Street this afternoon and send a delegation to the office of United States Senator O'Gorman to learn his views on the proposed suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. This was the first of a series of visits to be made by delegations of members of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage upon the 435 members of congress throughout the country for a similar purpose. Senator O'Gorman had consented to receive the delegates at the request of Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. Six women headed by Mrs. John Rogers were assigned to call at the senator's office while other suffrage leaders addressed a meeting to be held in the street in front of the sub-treasury building.

Wamsutta muslin was made and sold before your grandfather was a voter. It is one of the oldest cotton mills in the world, is Wamsutta. The grades made by this concern are surpassed by none, and the brand is a hallmark of value. We have sixteen dozen Men's Night Shirts made from pure Wamsutta muslin. They are worth a dollar each, and if we hoarded them in stock we could get it easily—but we are not going to do it. Saturday, and Monday until they are sold we will sell them at the low price of

SENT DONKEYS AHEAD

While They Were Being Attacked by Turks, the English Landed.

London, April 30.—One thousand donkeys loaded with dummy baggage and guns played an important part in aiding the landing of British forces in the Dardanelles, says a Tenedos dispatch to the Daily News, under date of Thursday.

A point on the coast was selected for the disembarkation of the newest type of cavalry, which was viciously attacked by the Turks who were under the impression that it constituted the advance guard of the invading forces. While the attention of the defenders of the peninsula was thus distracted, the English troops came ashore almost unmolested at a point some distance up the coast. The news correspondent says several thousand prisoners already have been taken by the allies, including many German officers who have been sent to Malta.

SAW REAL HOLDUP.

Cops Stage Exhibition for Applicants at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—Thirty-four would-be policemen who assembled at the Kansas City, Kan., hall last night to take the civil service examination for patrolmen, saw an exhibition of actual work on the department put on by the real police. They saw a holdup, capture and chase as the policeman sees it, his every day work.

The men who aspired to wear stars were standing about the lobby and in the station. Three shots rang out sharply in quick succession. Thomas Fleming, who was in charge of the department, stepped out of his office and gave orders to several policemen, telling them of a holdup a short distance away.

A few minutes later two of the officers returned with a man who, with another, had held up a grocery store in a crowded street.

TODAY'S MARKET REPORT.

Chicago, April 30.—WHEAT.—Prospect for higher prices for a large part of the domestic crop region had a bearish effect today on the price of wheat. The opening, which varied from 1/2c to 1 1/2c lower, was followed by a reaction to a range that averaged slightly under last night's level. Comprehensive reports indicating that the crop condition percentage of a month ago had been fully maintained and that acreage losses in the United States were not as heavy as had been feared, contributed to a new dip in prices. A number of holders were liquidating to be prepared for deliveries on May contracts. The market closed heavy, 1c to 1 1/2c under last night.

CORN.—Corn, although at first weak, with wheat, made a sharp rally. After opening 1/2c to 3/4c down, the market sagged a little further, and then more than overcame all the loss. Afterward the market again relaxed with wheat. The close was unsettled, 1/4c to 1 1/2c under last night.

OATS.—Predictions of rain eased oats. Later though prices recovered owing to the bulge in corn.

PROVISIONS.—Trade in provisions was about evenly divided. Values showed but little change.

Grain Gossip.

[Furnished by special wire to T. J. Myers.] Minneapolis wheat stocks decreased 700,000 bushels this week. Heavy rains have fallen for some time and crops have suffered, said a cable from Portugal. Stocks of wheat in Kansas City have increased 34,740 bushels this far this week, and corn stocks decreased 93,948 bushels.

A cable from France reads as follows: "Weather is favorable for crop development. Native offers of wheat are light and reserves are much under normal." Exports from the United States and Canada yesterday were 909,000 bushels of wheat, 27,000 barrels of flour, 114,000,000 bushels of corn and 888,000 bushels of oats; what and flour combined 1,061,000 bushels. A cable from India says: "Wheat harvesting in the Punjab is finished. Yield was high and quality is excellent. Native offers, however, are still disappointing and high."
